Cut It Out.....

Most of us need an occasional shot in the arm to keep our faith strong and vibrant. And it is important for us to remember those moments in our lives when the presence and action of God became more palpable - times when we felt inspired in our faith and especially close to God. Our growth in faith - our friendship with God, does not happen only in the special uplifting moments. It is through our daily efforts to be faithful to God, to live our faith in the everyday, that our bond with God is strengthened. Sometimes that means waiting in faith for the answers to our prayers but continuing to pray nonetheless. It also entails continuing to serve the Lord even when we do not feel particularly "holy" or "spiritual." It is in and through such everyday fidelity that we are drawn closer to Him.
